Catholic Churches Celebrate Corpus Christi.

MASS SUNG AT MONASTERY

Ceremonies of Blessing the Lilies Takes Place at St. Anthony's Altar at Church of Mount St. Sepulcher. Procession at St. Patrick's Follows High Mass at 11 o'clock.

Corpus Christi was celebrated in the Catholic churches yesterday, solemn processions of priests and people following the last mass of the day. White was the prevailing tone of the altar decorations and the color prescribed for the priest's vestments, the keynote of the ritual and music being one of joy and gladness.

At St. Anthony's Church, Brookland, the ceremonies held an added significance, as the day was also the feast of St. Anthony of Padua, the patronal feast of the church. Solemn high mass was sung at 11 o'clock by Rev. Edward Southgate, pastor, assisted by priests from the College of the Immaculate Conception, and Rev. John R. Harney, C. S. P., of St. Thomas College, Catholic University, preached the panegyric. The choir of seminarians from the Dominican House of Studies sang the music of the mass, which was strictly Gregorian.

The plans for the afternoon celebration were changed on account of the unfavorable weather. The procession which was planned to march from the church to the Benedictine Convent took place only in the church, the children of the parish, the Holy Name Society, and members of the sodality being in line. Rev. Father Conroy, of St. Martin's Church, was the celebrant at the afternoon service, and Rev. T. David Williams preached the sermon, the service closing with benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Lilies Are Blessed. In the Church of Mount St. Sepulcher, adjoining the Franciscan Monastery, at Brookland, solemn high mass was sung at 9 o'clock, the service taking place at the beautiful altar of St. Anthony. Following the mass, the unique ceremonies of blessing the lilies took place.

St. Anthony is usually represented by artists holding the infant Jesus and a lily, and hence the custom of blessing the lilies, which has only received the approval of the holy see in the last decade. Lilies were distributed to members of the congregation, and a relic of the saint was exposed for veneration during the mass. Vespers and benediction closed the service of the day at 8 o'clock.

At Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Georgetown, first communion was administered at the 7 o'clock mass to a large class of children, Rev. Thomas J. Harlin, S. J., pastor of the church, being celebrant. The celebration of the Feast of Corpus Christi took place at 11 o'clock, when a solemn high mass was sung by Rev. P. J. Brennan, S. J., celebrant; Rev. Alphonsus Coppens, deacon; Rev. Mr. Tully, S. J., of Georgetown College, subdeacon, and Rev. Joseph A. Kuhn, master of ceremonies. The music was furnished by the supplied choir of men and boys, under George Herbert Wells.

The air of St. Patrick's was redolent of the perfume of the lilies, which, with palms, ferns, and lighted tapers, adorned the high altar in honor of the beautiful feast of Corpus Christi. Solemn high mass was sung at 11 o'clock by Rev. William T. Russell, D. D., priests from St. Patrick's school, and Sunday school, and the girls of the parish and from St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum scattering flowers as they passed, the members of the League of the Good Shepherd, about 400

ISAAC R. HITT DEAD

Resident of Washington for Thirty-three Years.

WAS EIGHTY-ONE ON JUNE 2

Practiced Law Before the United States Court of Claims as Illinois State Agent—Was a Member of the University Club of This City Since Its Organization.

Isaac R. Hitt, Illinois State agent before the Court of Claims, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his son, Isaac R. Hitt, Jr., 1234 Columbia road. Mr. Hitt had practiced law for many years in this city. He was in his eighty-first year, and is survived by two sons—Isaac R. Hitt, Jr., attorney of this city, and Arza Brown Hitt, of Mineral Wells, Tex.

In the death of Mr. Hitt this city loses one of its ablest attorneys, and in point of age, one of the oldest.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the residence of his son. The officiating clergymen will be Rev. Joseph Dawson and Rev. Dr. Naylor. Interment will be at Evanston, Ill., Wednesday.

Isaac R. Hitt was born in Boonsboro, Washington County, Md., June 2, 1828, and was the oldest son of Dr. Willis Washington Hitt and Mary Reynolds Hitt, who was a daughter of Isaac Reynolds, of Baltimore, Md. He passed most of the days of his early childhood in Vincennes, Ind. He was graduated at Ashbury University (now De Pauw University) in 1849. From this university he received the degree of A. B., and subsequently that of A. M. He was a member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity, and was elected to Chicago in 1850, and thence to La Salle, Ill., in 1851, and back to Chicago in 1859, since which time he has been identified more or less with the interests of that city.

Mr. Hitt was senior attorney of La Salle during the Irish riot which occurred there in 1852. He studied law in Illinois with reference to land practice, and had devoted much of his time to the purchase and sale of real estate and the collection of claims against the Federal government. He was a member of the Chicago Academy of Science, also of the National Academy of Science.

Mr. Hitt was a delegate to the State convention at Bloomington, Ill., which organized the Republican party in Illinois. He was in the Secret Service under Grant, and was one of the park commissioners of the city of Chicago from 1889 to 1892.

Interested in Education. A few weeks before the Chicago fire of October, 1871, he moved to Evanston, where he resided for many years. He devoted most of his time in 1872 in assisting to erect the building known as the Woman's College, which is now annexed to the Northwestern University. In 1874 he and another citizen, first rented, then purchased and presented to the Woman's Aid Educational Association a building for the education of young women of small means; the same was made an annex to the Woman's College and is now known as Pearson Hall. In 1877 Mr. Hitt was prominent in the establishment of a system of the bar of the village of Evanston, and in getting the right of way for the Lake Shore Drive, now known as Sheridan Drive. He had always been an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In 1876 he was appointed by the governor of Illinois as agent of the State to adjust and settle the claims of the State against the general government. This position he held at the time of his death. He was a member of the bar of the United States Court of Claims and of this city, since its organization.

Mr. Hitt was married in 1856 to Mary Hyde Brown. They had six children: John, George, William, Charles, Arza, and Mary. Since her death his health has been failing.
